

Lap-Letter

Ways to Support LDRNM

Thank you to our Adopters, Fosters, Donors, and Volunteers for your continued support of Lap Dog Rescue of New Mexico! If you are interested in continuing your support, here are a few options:

FOSTERS: LDRNM is an all-volunteer organization, and our Fosters help us save more dogs from shelters and hoarding situations. If you are interested in learning more, please visit our website at www.lapdogrescue.org.

goodshop
You shop. We give.

AmazonSmile is no more but Goodshop is a simple, automatic no-cost way for you to support LDRNM. Go to Goodshop.com and select Lap Dog Rescue of NM as your charitable organization. LDRNM receives a nice percentage of your eligible purchases at dozens of stores!

Traveling with Our Lap Dogs!

Traveling with our Lap Dogs can be fun and rewarding for us and our pets! While it may take a bit more planning and preparation, with summer approaching, we are taking a peek at the adventures of a few of our adopted and foster lap dogs!

Angus, being held here by his owner Marcie Rackow, has vacationed in Colorado, Arizona, California, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois (and all the states in between here and there!). Marcie said Angus, "has been the biggest blessing to us. He is the sweetest and smartest dog! He's a favorite with everyone!"

(cont.)

Traveling with our Lap Dogs, cont.

Daisy, pictured right with her owner, loves to camp often with her family. If you are interested in taking your dog camping with you, in addition to making sure the pup's regular vaccinations are up-to-date, you also want to consider extra flea, tick and heartworm protection to keep them healthy.

Your dog should also have an updated collar tag with your contact information in case they do get separated from you during the trip. And if you will be near water, you may consider a specially designed doggie life jacket to keep your pet safe while swimming and boating.

Daisy, an adopted Lap Dog, camps with her family often!

Velcro, pictured here as a Lap Dog foster, enjoys going through the drive-through to get a Pup Cup! Just like when you are home, dog treats are a great way to give your pet an extra goody. When traveling though, remember to pack their regular food and water supply. Also, be sure to secure other food items, as well as trash, so your dog can't have access to something that may make her sick.

Finally, prepare for your trip by checking for potential vets on your way and near your final destination. If your pet does need treatment while you are away from home, having this information handy can save time and stress.

Here are a few websites with more information about traveling with your dog:

<https://www.gopetfriendly.com/blog/camping-with-dogs/>

<https://www.rei.com/blog/camp/camping-with-dogs-how-to-navigate-rules-and-regulations>

<https://pets.webmd.com/dogs/guide/how-to-travel-with-your-dog>